We look our best in subdued colors, sophisticated cuts, and a general air of sleek understatement. You choose your fabrics depending upon what you want to say, then you work with mills to get those fabrics. Through the process, you realize what you want it to be. I never like to think that I design for a particular person. I design for the woman I wanted to be, the woman I used to be, and – to some degree – the woman I'm still a little piece of. Grunge is a hippied romantic version of punk. I am what I am. Before I was not so proud to make fashion. My family thought fashion wasn't very interesting. So I hid that.

Design is a series of creative choices – it's a collaborative effort, an evolutionary process.
